

Good morning. I am Michel Debolt. I want to help YOU make a difference. Imamentor.com is an organization that allows YOU to reach out as a mentor to a young person. It connects YOU with a student in your own high school. It helps YOU make a difference.

Who are YOU? You are the mechanic working late every night. You understand the hard choices that life requires. You are the office worker juggling countless tasks. You appreciate the responsibilities that a career affords. You are the executive with barely enough time for your own family. You recognize the need to connect with those around you. Farmers, mothers, soldiers – you ALL have a wealth of experience accumulated across YEARS of time.

You know what steps it took to get to where you are now. Imagine someone taking those same steps today. Imagine yourself reaching back to pull that person along. Imagine them avoiding whatever mistakes you made. Imagine them learning the lessons that you learned.

But you don't have to imagine. That person exists. They are a student in your very own high school. They will face the same choices you faced. They will make the same mistakes you made. Yet you can make a difference.

Imamentor.com connects YOU with these young individuals, IF you register. Allow today's students to reach out to you. Allow them to ask the critical questions that you wish someone could have answered for you.

Register at www.Imamentor.com and know you will make a difference.
